

Come on board and put passenger safety first!

London TravelWatch and Transport Focus are the official, independent watchdogs for transport users in London and the rest of Great Britain respectively. Both organisations champion the interests of passengers through representation, consultation, investigation and monitoring and by taking every opportunity to press for a better travel experience.

Safety Adviser circa £10k

Part-time, average one day a week.

Flexible terms of engagement will be considered.

We are looking for a safety adviser to work one day a week advising both organisations on all aspects of rail safety in order to help protect passengers and ensure a safe travelling environment. You will represent us at external meetings with senior industry representatives, and when necessary at accident inquiries and inquests. We are seeking an experienced and highly effective communicator who is knowledgeable about safety performance and practices, and is able to draft authoritative responses to consultations from operators, regulators and government departments. Ideally you will have a comprehensive general knowledge of the rail industry and its regulatory structure or a willingness to learn. Most importantly you are able to view the industry and its practices from the passenger perspective and challenge it on their behalf.

To apply, please visit our website: http://www.londontravelwatch.org.uk/our\_work/vacancies or email vacancies@londontravelwatch.org.uk and complete the application form. Alternatively send your CV with a covering letter explaining why you consider yourself suitable for the post. You can also telephone 020 3176 2999 or write to Caprice Pompey, Corporate Support Assistant, London TravelWatch, 169 Union Street, London, SE1 0LL, quoting job reference SA/LTW.

Closing date for all applications: 20/04/15 (9:00 a.m.) Interviews week commencing 27/04/15

The successful candidate will initially be expected to work more than one day a week in order to complete a successful handover before the current postholder leaves and will need to be prepared to travel to London for meetings on a regular basis.

We welcome applications from all sections of London's diverse community
